Calvin Johnson Bio:

During Calvin’s 30 year entrepreneurial journey he has been passionate about creating happy corporate cultures. First hand experience has shown Calvin that if you can get the culture right, staff are happier, productivity and innovation are higher, staff turnover is lower and the business runs with less friction and more profitably.

As founder of the office coffee and snack company lykki.com Calvin has gathered insight from over 1.5 million orders delivered to clients. His research shows that providing free snacks, delicious coffee and fresh fruit might be nice “perks” but overall they don’t create amazing corporate cultures.

*Lykki (say Lie-Key) is a playful take on the Danish word for Happiness.

Giving Back

Adventurer and student of happiness inspiring people to do more, give more and live more Calvin co-founded and operates ClubNeed.org a travel adventure company that organizes life changing “Give Back” travel experiences to some of the poorest areas of Nicaragua.

As a two decade past member, regional and national chair at the Entrepreneurs Organization, Calvin creates customized ClubNeed trips for EO members, their families and forum groups.

Calvin has given many speeches about creating purpose thru giving and assisted companies in setting up their own grass roots give back programs.

As a life long Student of Happiness and Entrepreneur Calvin has travelled the globe to research, interview and document some of the worlds happiest workplaces. While visiting over 200 companies in Canada, USA, Denmark, Sweden, Japan, Germany, Thailand, Philippines, Australia, Nicaragua, Mexico and Bhutan Calvin found that no two corporate cultures are the same. Each has a unique “recipe” all their own.

Calvin’s consulting company The Culture Kitchen focuses on Workplace Happiness research, speaking, coaching, workshops and retreats.

As a speaker Calvin is warm, funny and very insightful. His personality instantly makes everyone feel comfortable but he is not here to motivate and inspire – he is here to create a change in attitude and provide actual science based tools and strategies to become happier, healthier and more productive at work!

Calvin lives in Canada with his wife and 2 sons.
